

FAQ's about Love Begins Here

- What is the schedule like?
 - The day in the life of an LBH Missionary goes as follows:
 - Wake up and eat breakfast
 - Mass will be around 7:30-8:30am depending on the host parish
 - Missionaries and their car groups will go out and serve from about 9:00ish until 3:30/4:00 p.m.
 - After we are done serving, each car group will meet at the local public pool for swim time and showering until about 5:30pm
 - We will return to the host parish for dinner and relaxing time
 - Each night we will gather as a full group and have Collatio time to share about our days and where we encountered Jesus that day
 - Some nights will have parish group time
 - And one night of the week will be Adoration and Confession for the missionaries
 - After we share, there will be time to hang out, relax, and play games before we head to bed for the night
- Are chaperones free?
 - Chaperones are free. We understand that they are giving up their time from work and whatnot. All that we ask is that the parishes reimburse them in some way for gas.
- Where do we stay?
 - Each site for Love Begins Here will have somewhere for us to stay (most of them a school). We will stay in classrooms throughout the school or sometimes in the old rectory. Missionaries are encouraged to bring an air mattress/mattress pad and blankets. All rooms will be separated by gender.
- How much money is it?
 - The middle school mission trips cost $100
 - The high school mission trips cost $120
 - That is everything included, but if students want to purchase merchandise, they are encouraged to bring some money for that
- Can I be a host site for next year?
 - If you are interested in being a host site for Summer 2018, please email our intern at lbhqbd@gmail.com Be sure to include your parish and if you are interested in a high school or middle school week.
- What if one of my students can't make the week I am promoting, but wants to go on a different week?
 - They are more than welcome to do that. We call those missionaries "lost sheep" Registration for lost sheep will open on December 15th.
